

Best Essay Writing Service in 2019

At first glance, an essay, which in Europe and America is the main type of student text, is much more in keeping with the tasks of popularizing, understanding and developing science. The essay is much smaller in volume and can take from one to five pages of the 12th size. References to the works of predecessors may be put into footnotes, and the style closer to the free one, although also not without some scientific tediousness. This is largely due to the purpose of this essay, more focused on the disclosure of your personal position.

Best Essay Writing Service in 2019

The course content is edited by the course author in random order and can easily be carried out right in the process learning. It is very easy to add various elements to the e-course:

lecture, assignment, forum, glossary, wiki, chat, etc. For each electronic course there is a convenient page to view the latest changes in the course.

Thus, LMS Moodle gives the teacher an extensive tools for the presentation of educational materials of the course, theoretical and practical classes, organization of educational activities both individual and group.

Focused on distance education control system Moodle learning has a large set of communication tools. Is not only email and sharing attachments with the teacher, but and forum (general news on the main page of the program, as well as various private forums), chat, private messaging, maintenance blogs.

Moodle has a multifunctional test module. Insofar as The main form of knowledge control in distance learning is testing, LMS Moodle has extensive tools for creating tests and conduct training and control testing.

Supported by several types of questions in the test tasks (multiple choice, matching, true false, short answers, essay and others.). Moodle provides many features that make it easy to process.

tests. You can set the rating scale, when adjusting the teacher test tasks after passing the test by students, there is mechanism for semi-automatic conversion of results. The system contains developed tools for statistical analysis of test results and that very important, the complexity of individual test questions for students.